The expression "unless otherwise justified and authorized"

The expression "unless otherwise justified and authorized" means that the requirements have to be met or instructions to be followed, unless the relevant national or regional authority authorizes an exemption or modification, where justified in a particular case.